“ Mamaw was such an amazing woman! When I was younger I was best friends with her granddaughter; "Little Bobbie", Mamaw always welcomed me into her home and treated me as her own grandchild. She would spoil us with desserts and snacks, she was always in the kitchen cooking something! (She always told me I needed to eat more because I was too skinny! LOL!) She introduced me to Watergate Salad, at which became my favorite thing she made, and I'm yet to try anyone else's because in my book, she was the ONLY one that could make it! She always insisted that I call her Mamaw and nothing else, for I didn't even know her real name for years after I first met her! Although she is physically gone, she and all the many memories I have of her will forever be with me! I Love & Miss you Mamaw!
