Remember all the laughter,
We've shared throughout the years,
Now I am contented
That my life it was worthwhile,
Knowing that I passed along the way
I made somebody smile,
When you are walking down the street
And you've got me on your mind,
I'm walking in your footsteps

“ Charlie, I truly pray that you found peace during the last several months. You and I didn't always see things eye to eye and learned how to forgive through Gods grace. I don't think our frustrations toward each other ever stopped us from caring about the other. You could also bring a belly laugh to so many situations and that was part of your gift and talent. Thank you for caring about us kids when we didn't fully appreciate it at times...and for loving our Lynsay. Many people will miss you. I'm trying not to be so angry toward the people who hurt you so badly as they are still walking around.

I'll end my comment on a high note. You were told that so many loved you during those last days, hours and I hope you knew that was the truth. Death takes the body but your spirit will continue to comfort those who miss you the most.

“ My heart is broken and a piece of my heart will always be with you, you were and will always be in my heart, living on inside my heart. I'll eventually learn how to go on without you, and the only thing good about this, is, nobody can ever hurt you again. You're no longer suffering and in pain.. May God spread your wings and let you fly high to Him. I love you and I'll miss you forever bro.
