“ I remember all the fun we had playing together when were little,you Larry,and me. We practically lived in the woods. I remember the nail you stuck in your foot...we were always barefoot. I remember sliding down the hill of your new homesite on cardboard. I remember all the times I ate at your house. Your Mom was such a fantastic cook and then at the Bus Depot. I felt like we were all just family and even though we had drifted apart through the years we did manage to somewhat stay in touch via Facebook. Love you and will miss you girl! 🙏🙏🙏

Rest now, my friend, you have entered inside the gates of heaven.. No more pain, no more suffering, will you ever know. I will miss our talks but God knew it was time for you to move into your eternal home and time for you to receive your heavenly reward for all the good you did for others while here below.
