“ I met Nan in Charlotte in 1975 and was instantly immersed, her beauty did indeed run deep, all the way to the core. It's the only time in my life that I can really say that I fell in love, that I knew how wonderful and true love could be. We lived this idyllic life together for 3 or 4 years, and then we had an odd splitting of avenues due to our careers both leading to other cities, she to Boone and I to Greenville. The distances did not prove insurmountable for us and the lights simply dimmed on our relationship. We were so foolish. And years later when we got together on one of my trips back home from California, we reflected on that foolishness. We talked about sitting in rocking chairs together on her West Virginia porch and watching the ages approach, and I think deep inside we ached to do that. But it was not so simple now, and again we paused. Again the fools. I decided to call her yesterday, but found this saddest of news. I still love you Nan.

“ I am deeply sorry to learn that the woman I knew as Nan and Bob Blevins' sister, is gone from this life. She was a very dear friend to me. She missed her brother Bobby (Bob) and sister Eileen so very much after they died. Now she is reunited with them. Blessings to the remaining family which includes Bob's sons Richard, Robert (Bobby) and Ronald (Ron).

“ Nan, as I knew her for many years, was Bobby Blevins' sister. I met her for the first time in 1978 when she visited Bobby and his sons in Baltimore. The years passed, and we began corresponding in 2004. I saw her twice in Boone since then; the last was in 2009. Nan was a special friend to many in Boone. Not many people know that she volunteered reading to children at the local library, assisted with folks who were disabled and less fortunate than she. She was well-respected by her clients, and had many friends in Boone. I miss her very much! Her sense of humor was unmistakable and was much like her brother Bobby's. Nan missed him so when he died in 2010. I believe they are together now with other loved ones. May it be so.

“ Nan, you were a dear soul and I will always remember your kindness and compassion towards my mama. She loved you. I am sorry we lost touch. You always were an angel (and calling everyone else you met an angel!). Peace, friend.
