

Glen Charles Kindle, Jr.

July 11, 1944 - March 8, 2013

"I loved life and I lived it!"-Glen

Big Stone Gap, VA

Glen C. Kindle, Jr., 68, passed away on Friday (March 8, 2013) at Holston Valley Medical Center in Kingsport, TN.

He was born in Roda, VA, lived in Richmond, VA for over nine years, and lived most of his life in Appalachia and Big Stone Gap, VA. He worked for DuPont in Richmond and was a coal miner with the Westmoreland Coal Co. at the Paramount Mine. He was a member of the U. M. W. A. District #20, Local #7276. He was of Baptist faith.

Glen enjoyed and loved his family, especially his grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents Glen C. and Ruby (Whitt) Kindle, Sr.

Glen is survived by his wife of 48 years, Patty (Sneed) Kindle; his son, Steven W. Kindle of Big Stone Gap; his daughter, Pamela Barker and fiancé, Patrick Davidson of Ripley, WV; three grandchildren, Logan Barker, Payton Barker and Stevie Kindle; one sister, Lynda Carpenter and husband, R. C. of Big Stone Gap; and one nephew and two nieces.

The family will receive friends from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday at Holding Funeral Home (17 E. 3rd St., N.) in Big Stone Gap.

A Celebration of Life service will follow at 5 p.m. Sunday in the funeral home chapel with the Rev. Melvin Eads officiating.

Final arrangements are private.

“ We pray that Glen's family will be flooded with the comfort and peace that only the Holy Spirit can provide in times like this. I hope this poem will bring some comfort. Door To Home It could be a day like this,the sky will split apart From the east unto the west,what joy will fill my heart Because I'll know what day it is,when I see my savior come Upon that joyous cloud of bliss,I'll fly with Jesus home. He's prepared a place for me upon that golden strand When his glorious face I see, I'll be a happy man Because I'll be at home at last,no more will I roam When the master says to me,"Well done, welcome home" I never have felt at home,here on this earthly sod No matter where I roam it's clear,my soul belongs to God So if I die before you do,don't weep, sigh, and groan For death is not a threat to me,it's just a door to home.
