“ Brad was a really good man and a very dear friend to me over the years. Any time I had a question on a computer or any kind of audio it would be time to stop and see Brad. That happened to be the case just three days before he left us. I stopped looking for a certain power adapter that I hadn't seen in years and Brad just cracked a smile and walked straight to his back room and back and said here u go. It made him happy anytime he could help anyone. Rest in peace partner, you will be missed. I'm sure you will check in on us from time to time.
