“ When I was about 9 years old, I traveled with my father to bring Granny Wells back home to BSG after a visit to NC. We traveled at night and our first stop was Aunt Lawrencia's house for breakfast. Such a feast she had laid out for us... ham, sausage, bacon, biscuits and gravy, eggs cooked any way you wanted, grits, coffee percolating on the stove-- the smells were heavenly, and being around her table in her warm kitchen as she bustled around making sure we all had everything we needed truly felt like coming home. Aunt Lawrencia was everyone's second mother and it was always a comfort to look at her and see Granny Wells. She loved with everything she had, and nobody left her house without feeling that love!
