“ I met Harold during his days with the Palmetto State Qt. Having heard his recordings with PSQ, I already knew what a tremendous talent he had, but I was very pleasantly surprised to find that he was such a friendly, humble and decent man who I believe, trully loved His Lord. I am glad I had the opportunity to meet Harold and to tell him in person how much his singing blessed me. Gospel Music has lost the greatest bass voice to ever grace any stage when we lost Harold. I pray that his friends and family will take comfort in knowing we will see Harold again in a land that knows no pain where death will never part us again.

Sincerely,

Greg Carter (another old worn out bass singer...)

“ I met Harold back in the early 90s at the quartet convention . A friend and I were sitting on the steps that lead to the stage. we were singing with the groups, when Harold sat down and started singing with us. I was singing baritone with a local group called the Harbingers and we lost our base singer . We called Harold and he sang with us a few weeks . What a talent. He is the best base singer I ever heard . And what a sense of humor , he kept us laughing . I loved this man like a brother . May God bless the family , I share your loss . James Baker

“ I was privileged to play the piano for the Powell River Boys in Big Stone Gap, VA when Harold was their bass singer in the early 1960s. Who would have thought this young man would have become such a well known bass singer in the gospel music industry!!

I remember when he told Mother he and Betty were to marry, and how very happy he was. God's blessings to you, Betty, and to your family.
