“ I had an English and algebra class with Sam.. neither one of us understood algebra very good and we would sit in the back and crack jokes about it.. he was a beautiful soul who didn't take crap from anyone, that's what I admired most about him. He'll be missed forever

“ He was in my carpentry class with me and everyone knew him as fearless. I was able to prove them wrong by dropping a dead spider in his hands and making him squeal. His reaction will forever be a lasting memory I have with him. We miss you Sam.
